Reconditioning Services

We at NPK would like to preserve your original machine parts. This is the main reason for offering our comprehensive reconditioning services for your automatic winding drums.

Our Process will remove all usual defects such as rusting, peeling of coating, scratches from drum cover, dent marks on crossover and knife edge scratches.

We have infrastructure to deplate the original component, re machine effected area via our CNC Multi Axis machine, re grind the total component, polish on our automated high speed buffing machine and replat the component and then dynamically balance the drum.

Our services will preserve and salvage your original equipment, remove wear and tear issues and extend the usable life for another 5-7 years.
